HATTERS DELIVER FINAL VICTORY

Welcome to Parknews. Pride of place again this week is deservedly with the Hatters: a terrific performance on Friday evening saw them win the Zoo Sports Shield Play-off final against Richmond Normans by 20-14. It was a thrilling match that had everything (including a half-time streaker!). Promotion is not automatic: it is up to the Hatters whether to accept it or not. Promotion would give them a terrific fixture list next year against some strong second XVs, but it would also entail a fair bit of travelling as opponents would include Clifton, Bury St Edmunds, Cambridge, Shelford, Colchester, Bishops Stortford and Redingensians. Whether or not they accept their due, the win means that there will be a Rosslyn Park presence at the EIC awards evening on 31st May with Sean Fitzpatrick.

That's a try for Adam Alexander, and the Hatters are on their way to a Play-off Final victory over Richmond Normans

There is no disguising the fact that Saturday's 1st XV performance at Blaydon was very disappointing. The home side were really fired up in their effort to avoid relegation, but they were no supermen and it was a distinctly limp performance from Park after the long journey north.

Whilst there are some valid excuses in terms of a terrible run of injuries in a long season, that does not explain missed tackles and an overall lacklustre air about things. Four tries without reply in the last twenty minutes lent some respectability to the final score, but one got the distinct impression that Blaydon had declared "Job Done" at that point, and were coasting before this coming Saturday's final stage of their battle to remain in National 1.

This Saturday third in the table Ampthill come visiting for our final match of the season. The Amps have had another good season and, while their links to Saracens are not as deep as those of Hartpury to Gloucester, they do ensure some very talented players pass through the club. Park lost 15-24 at Ampthill our first match this season - one we could easily have won. Saturday will give a chance to show that we've improved since then. Whilst whatever the result, Park will finish a respectable sixth in the table, the team owe it to themselves, their Coaches and - indeed - to their supporters to put last Saturday's strangely dismal performance behind them and to end the season with a top notch show.

Please do come along and add your support, and bring your mates along to swell the gate.

Brett Connon converting for 7-0.

Park looked good when they were going forward but invariably an error or a penalty conceded would stop them in their tracks. Two of the penalties against them became crucial when kicks were aimed to touch to provide tries from subsequent drives for hooker Matt Thompson and Davidson, his second, in the 18th and 26th minutes.

Connon converted both, and the 21-0 half-time scoreline could have been worse had he not muffed an easier penalty.

Park's nightmare continued in the second half. In the first minute a neat run out of defence by Mark Kohler was spoilt when an attempted chip and chase was caught on the rise by a defender and swiftly passed to the left where winger Fraser Wilson avoided a poor attempt at a tackle to coast over, Connon again converting for 28-0.

Less than five minutes later Thompson grabbed his second try for 33-0.

When Blaydon lock Andrew Archibald added his name to the try scorers' tally on 56 minutes, converted by Connon for 40-0, it looked as if a fifty-point-plus thrashing was on the cards for the visitors.

Blaydon clearly felt they had done enough and appeared to conserve their energy for their final match in the relegation battle next Saturday. For the final quarter they emptied the substitutes' bench and Park promptly took over.

Dave Vincent, coming back from a long spell out injured, put Park on the board with a try on 61 minutes, converted by Leonard for 40-7.

Full-back Henry Robinson followed up on 74 minutes for 40-12 and in a grandstand finish Vincent grabbed his second try, converted by Leonard, followed by flanker Josh Ovens on the stroke of time for a final score of 40-24.

But it was too little too late, and a distinctly poor day at the office for Park.

Park Attack and Defence Coach, Scott Sneddon, said: " After the Hull performance we asked the boys to restore some pride in the jersey after a poor performance but unfortunately we were carrying some passengers again in the first half against Blaydon.

"We knew Blaydon had a strong set piece and they took full advantage of our poor discipline and lack of accuracy".

He added, "It's a difficult time of the season being mid table and not being able to climb the league, however, the last two perfor-

"The boys had an honest chat at half time and we played some great rugby to get 4 tries in the second half.

"We have to give credit to Blaydon, but to be 40 points down in that jersey is not good acceptable".

Looking ahead to Saturday's final League match at home to third placed Ampthill (KO 15:00), he said: "Next week is going to be another big game, Ampthill have a very strong set piece and have some threatening runners in the backs.

"Whilst league position is irrelevant, attitude and mindset this week will determine selection. We need to have players on the pitch who aren't already 'on holiday' and show our faithful fans what it means to play in an Rosslyn Park shirt.

"If the players bring that attitude on Saturday then we will sign off the season we'll and try to put the last two performances behind us".

Will Thorogood reports of the Hatters, "Send them victorious, happy and glorious...and they were...!!" Congratulations to the Hatters on their magnificent victory over Richmond Normans on Friday evening at the Rock! Under lights and in front a good show of supporters, friends, families and club mates, this Zoo Sports 3 Play Off Final was an exciting affair, and was in the balance for good part of the second half!

Fast and furious with a great deal of rugby footballing skill, both in the hand and with the boot, from both sides. We lead 13-7 at half time. Richmond, as I remember, however, sneaked the lead with a second half try and conversion, 13-14, but continued Hatter pressure broke the Normans' defence, 20-14, with a well worked converted try!

Nerves were jangling, but with typical hard work, attack and defence, we were able to hold off a Norman invasion. Well done, gents, enjoy your Italian tour to Milan next week, and your summer break, before the campaign recommences next season. I'm sure the lads made merry long into the night, in celebration! A report and photos of the game should be in Parknews.

Rosslyn Park Hatters

On Saturday, the Nomads played their last Surrey Championship game of the season, in Richmond Park, against KCS 2's. Thanks to all involved getting this game off the ground, as it had to be switched from KCS to ours at very short notice. In short, a scrappy first half, but then the floodgates opened.

Final score, Nomads 50 KCS 2's 15. A satisfying way to finish off the season!

I think the 4's are off on tour to Copenhagen, well Denmark somewhere, this weekend, and as mentioned the Hatters to Milan. Good luck and enjoy, globetrotters.

The B's will be in Yorkshire the following weekend. Before that they will be participating in the Middlesex Sevens at the Richmond Athletic Ground on Sunday (30th April). Give them your support if you are at a loose end.

Rosslyn Park Hatters 20 Richmond Normans 14 Zoo Sports Shield Division 3 Play-off Final

by Joe Wigley

The play-off final for bragging rights as Zoo Sports Division 3 champions pitched two old rivals against each other. The Hatters had met Richmond Normans twice already in the league this season, going down narrowly at home in September before beating them by a whisker at the RAG in January. It had all the makings of a classic and did not disappoint.

The Hatters were again able to put out close to their strongest side of the season. The only changes to the starting team who had put Tonbridge to the sword two weeks previously, were Burton coming in at number 8 for the absent Kinsky and Kouj stepping into the centres to replace Wilson who was now sunning himself in warmer climes. That was at least until the warm-up when Foot managed to sideline himself for the duration - step up CPR.

Tom Longley passes from the back of the scrum

The Normans also gathered in force, with some familiar (and some not so familiar) faces. It was clear from the outset that this was going to be a physical contest.

With the stage set, places laid for the Hatters' end of season dinner straight after the game and a partisan crowd already a couple of pints to the good, Crawford kicked off away from the clubhouse to get proceedings underway. Park started well, the back-row trio of Ward, Millsy and Burton combining well to apply serious pressure in defence. It did not take long before the speed of the Hatters' defensive line, led by Alexander and Kouj in the mid-field, forced a turnover. Park were quick to take advantage, putting together several phases in the midfield with some strong ball-carrying from CPR and Davies from the second row, before Longers darted to the right hand side of the breakdown, releasing Alexander still with work to do some 10 yards out. After his Maradona moment last week, AA shunned all support and spun his way to cross the white-wash and open the scoring. With the conversion barely 15 yards from the touchline, Crawford, big-game player that he is, had little difficulty slotting it between the uprights. With only 10 minutes on the clock, Park led 7-0.

The restart was well taken by Wardie, who set up the ball for Longers to clear with a superb box kick. Following a good chase, the Hatters were awarded a penalty on the ten-metre line after the Normans' full back failed to release the ball. Crawford strode up and maintained his 100% record with an awesome strike. As the game entered the second quarter, the Hatters were leading Normans by 10 points to nil.

As Richmond saw the game dangerously close to slipping out of their reach, they began to pile on the pressure. While for a moment some welcome relief was provided by a friendly stalker, the Hatters had to withstand wave after wave of Norman attacks, with Wardie and Burton putting in some ferocious hits in midfield. Richmond also sought to capitalise on a significant weight advantage in the set-piece. While the Park scrum was certainly under pressure, de Haan and Leigh stood their ground enough to allow Longers and Crawford to clear the lines. From one such clearance, however, Richmond managed to put together a number of passes out wide with good support play enabling them to beat the, for once, disjointed Hatters defence, cutting Park's lead to only 3 points.

With little more than five minutes to go in the half, the Hatters responded well, building the phases as the likes of Mills, Leigh and de Haan took the ball on. Soon enough, Richmond's ill-discipline got the better of them as they were pinged for killing the ball in the ruck. Cue Crawford to bisect the posts from 40 metres: 13-7 to the Hatters at the break.

With Richmond having their coaches' harsh words at the break ringing in their ears, they started ferociously, having the lion's share of possession and territory in the first ten minutes. However, the Hatters defence was heroic with Kouj and Alexander in particular putting their bodies on the line in midfield and Rosser and Hughesie ensuring there was no way through round the outside. Eventually de Haan won a superb turnover and Park were in possession. Again, the Hatters began to put together the phases, drawing Richmond's defence in tight. Davies and CPR combined effectively to generate some momentum. Longers, who continued to marshal the forwards, took every opportunity to steal a few extra yards with his trademark sniping runs. Once in the twenty-two, the ball found its way to Crawford who released Porter running a hard outside line. Once again ignoring the overlap, as is his wont, Porter shrugged off some Richmond tacklers to score almost under the posts. Crawford needed little invitation to chalk-up the extras as he maintained his unblemished record. 20-7 to Park.

With twenty minutes to go and the changes being wrought on both sides, the Hatters were bolstered by Dom Ryan in the second row, Horgan at prop and Willis on the flank, while Mason and Bondie came on on the wing. With the onslaught that was to come, the Hatters benefited from the arrival of fresh legs. Richmond kept the ball relatively tight, punching forward and recycling. Each time the Hatters' defence stood strong, although with tiredness beginning to set in, for the first time in the game, they began to be penalised for infringements at the breakdown. From one such penalty, Richmond kicked to touch and set up a powerful driving maul. While this was brought down some five yards out, Richmond were awarded a further penalty. This their rampaging prop, took quickly, charging towards the try-line only to be met by the Hatters' pack in similarly full throttle. Richmond managed to retain the ball and having had no luck wide on the right, managed to stretch Park's defence and score close to the left hand corner. A superb conversion, taking the score to 20-14 to Park, ensured a tense final ten minutes. While Richmond had a final foray into Park's twenty-two, the Hatters eventually forced a knock-on. From the scrum, Burton drove a few yards forward to set up the final ruck of the game. Fittingly, in this the biggest game of the season, it was the big game player Crawford who brought proceedings and his man of the match performance to a close as he ushered the ball into touch for the final whistle.

George Burton gets a pass away in the tackle

Exhausted, the Hatters, somehow buoyed by their topping the league, managed to keep festivities going. After a long, hard season, the following awards were extremely well-deserved:

- Payne, newcomer of the season;
- de Haan, most improved player of the season;
- Davies, clubman of the season;
- Longers, player of the season for a second consecutive year.

With images of topless wrestling still imprinted on their memories, next stop Milan.

KCS OB 17 Nomads 57 Surrey Championship

A season full of both challenges and highlights for the Nomads was successfully rounded out in Richmond Park on Saturday, with a 43-17 win over KCS Old Boys. This follows a 57-19 win over Farnham the week before, and a one point loss to eventual league runners up Battersea Ironsides, (from a last minute penalty goal – what sort of person kicks for penalties in social rugby?!?!), a few days prior to departing on our epic 25th anniversary tour to Cape Town.

Saturday's squad was one of the best of the year, both in numerical terms and player quality. Nevertheless, the Nomads started poorly and a 7-7 scoreline after 15 minutes was perhaps not a true reflection of KCS's dominance of possession and territory.

Injuries to Roberts-san and JFK in the leadup to the KCS try were adequately covered from the depth of the bench and the team clicked into gear. Inspired by a series of big hitups by Haydo, the forwards held possession and advanced over multiple phases. Despite being constantly infringed at the breakdown, Turns played phenomenally at 9 and delivered quality ball for Conor and the backs to work their magic in. Yet it was fitting that it was a series of pick and goes that delivered the next points to Park and the team got some wind in the sails.

Frustration with the ref and the opposition in the first half was not allowed to boil over (too much) and, as KCS began to tire, the fresh legs and quality shone through. JJ recovered a kickoff and got inside the 22 before being brought down, but gave the spring-board for a try a few phases later.

The final 20 minutes was champagne Nomads rugby. A cheeky move at the front of the lineout by Lucas and Scott was followed by one of the most audacious cross field kicks ever witnessed by a herd of deer, to see Teddy scamper over the line.

Winty was also in the points, crossing in the corner but dotting down almost under the posts, then nonchalantly slotting the conversion. Burden was denied, being adjudged as held up, even though the KCS player told the ref it was a clear try.

Ethan ran dummy lines all day, while Jake just ran through people! And Two-Try-Teddy disgustingly avoided a brace by crossing the line, then turning and making a completely unnecessary pass back into the field of play to gift George the five points.

Some great players have joined the team this year and been bonded by adversity and success. Playing a very exciting, high scoring, free flowing style of rugby, we finished 7th (with one less game, due to the void result recorded against Old Emanuel), with the second highest points-for in the league.

Thanks must go to our retiring chairman and committee, the Oldmads supporters, Charlotte and the game day physios, Will Thorogood for fixtures and always supporting on the sidelines, Pippa for medical assistance and everyone from members of the 1sts through to parents of minis who called or messaged the team after the tragic events at Old Emanuel. Your support should never be underestimated and it is genuinely appreciated.

And so we look towards next year with a great deal of confidence and anticipation of an even more successful season.

Floodlit Sevens

Whilst the Ampthill match brings down the curtain on League rugby this season it is most certainly not the end of entertainment at the Rock this season as we still have that wonderful festive evening that is the London Floodlit Sevens, and this year's line up looks like one of the strongest for years.

This year's staging of takes place on Thursday 04 May, kicking off at 5:00PM, with the final at 10:20PM. Teams due to participate include Harlequins, Bath, Wasps, Worcester Warriors, Gloucester Rugby, London Irish, Esher, Loughborough University and the sevens specialist sides of The Army, Rambling Jesters and Seventy7s along with - of course - Rosslyn Park. This is one of the Club's biggest fund raising events so please do come along and bring as many others as you can. The full timetable is in the fixture panel on the front page, but Park's first appearance is at 7:20PM.

Please note that even Members need to have a ticket. Admission on the night will be £15 but you can get tickets online in advance for £10.75. There's a link to buy your tickets on the tournament website at www.londonfloodlitsevns.com

If you want to watch in luxury there are possibly still a few hospitality packages available. Whether you want to get together a few friends and colleagues to watch some quality sevens in style, or you'd like to provide some corporate hospitality in friendly and professional surroundings, our entertainment packages provide the full range of options. Speak to Dom Shabbo in the club office.

International selection for Park players

Will Collier, a product of our mini and youth teams, has been selected for the England party to tour Argentina. Will was offered a professional contract at Harlequins at the end of his development with our "academy", but most supporters will recall he returned to us for a season on a dual-registration basis for a season to gain experience, during which time he was a real club man. The Editor recalls a conversation with our then backs Coach, Stu Abbott, who - asked how good he thought Will was - said, "I've no doubt at all he'll play for England". Looks like he is going to be proved correct!

However, the Rosslyn Park talent school is still churning them out. Our former skipper Alex Milward is very much involved in the junior side of the club and reported, "It is a great pleasure to announce that our very own Sam Davies has been selected to play for England U16s on April 16th in Bristol. This season, in addition to his RP enthusiastic contributions, Sam has captained Surrey, and secured a place in the Harlequins Academy. The English Premiership Academies played each other this Easter, from which this England team has been selected. This is a great testament to Sam's irrepressible enthusiasm, talent and hard work.

"The coaching team are all immensely proud of Sam, and delighted for him. His coaches of yesteryear at RP from U5s to U13s, Andy, Nick and Mark all helped set the foundation to help shape Sam's talent.

"It also gives me great pleasure to say Andy's son William Sinfield, is also selected for the England U16 team, from the London Irish Academy. William played and captained RP from U5 to U13. This is a testament to the talent and dedication William has put into the game.

"There are several other familiar faces in the team, some of whom I have admired the playing abilities of for some time. We wish them both both well, and huge enjoyment for what will be a thriller. Hopefully we can entice them both to play again in our summer 7s on July 8th. Simply brilliant, and I couldn't be more delighted for them both".

A vigilant Tom Blake also spotted a strong RPFPC contingent in Singapore the weekend before last:

Harry Glover – played from U7 to U16

Will Glover – ditto

And Ollie Lindsey Hague

Harry got the winning score in the bronze match against Australia (in which he and his younger brother both started). you can watch at:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dnJbF3tAKPs>

And of course father Jim Glover played in the Park 1st XV a few years ago

Why I'm a ladies' man

by the Editor

Alas, no smutty stories or vain boasts: the ladies referred to all play rugby. In all the years of belonging to the Club one gets to support a variety of teams: good and not so good, senior and junior, men and women. In all honesty there is no team that I've been more proud to support than this season's Slingbacks side. They represent - to me - what this game is all about.

They have just played through the most awful season, lightened only by ending with two successive and deserved wins, but the way they have done it is what is so admirable. It's a poor Rugby team where the players don't play for each other, but the Slingbacks take the concept of supporting your mates to a new level. No one is isolated - on or off the pitch.

Even when losing heavily, and the referee's watch is winding down, nobody ever shirks a tackle. A mistake brings support rather than brickbats. In particular, the handful of more experienced players never lose patience with, or criticise, the newer girls. It must be frustrating for the doyennes of the side to skilfully carve out an opening, only for the anticipated benefactor to lack the experience to take advantage. But there is never a moment's recrimination, only support and a desire to win the ball back quickly.

There is no haranguing of the poor old ref, even after the most diabolical decisions. Occasionally tempers rise, as they always will when people care about what they are doing, but what happens on the field stays there, and after the match it's a very social atmosphere and there are drink-related challenges to be undertaken.

Those of us of a certain generation tend to get a bit misty eyed about what we might refer to in shorthand as the traditional amateur values of the game. They are actually alive and well and pretty much describe the way the Slingbacks play. There is a rich irony here inasmuch as that same generation that hark back to the old values tend to be the most disparaging about women playing rugby. If you are irredeemably sexist then perhaps it's best if you do just wallow in your own misogyny, but otherwise why not make a note to come along and watch the Rosslyn Park girls next season - you'll see a lot of what probably attracted you to this sport in the first place!

National 1 Review

Champions Hartpury playing against the bottom, and already relegated club Macclesfield was always likely to be a bit one sided. When Macc pulled level with a penalty try on ten minutes it looked like being a contest, but thirteen unanswered tries later it was 92-7. Only Blackheath, seventh in the table, can stop Hartpury from ending the season unbeaten when the two sides meet at Eltham this Saturday but that looks unlikely after 'Club' slid to defeat at home to Runners-up Plymouth Albion by 46-7 last Saturday.

Our next opponents, Amphill, assured themselves of finishing third with a 35-12 win over Cambridge, while Coventry leapfrogged Birmingham Moseley into fourth place with a 36-16 win over Darlington Mowden Park while Moseley became the latest victims of Esher's revival, losing by 35-24. Park will finish sixth.

At the other end of the table, the five points Blaydon gained against Park give them hope of survival, but they are still two points behind Hull Ionians who matched that feat with a 46-33 win over Old Albanian. In the other match, Fylde won at home to Loughborough by 32-21.

The demise of London Welsh means no one will be relegated from the Championship this season. Caldy will be promoted from 2 North and Bishops Stortford from 2 South. The play-off for the other promotion place will be between Sale from the North and either Old Elthamians or Chinnor, who are currently level in second place on points, from the South. This coming Saturday Old Elthamians are home to Barnstaple and Chinnor away to London Irish Wild Geese: should they still be level on points after that Old Elthamians will go up as they have marginally the better playing record. If Sale win their final match (away to Otley) this weekend then they will be at home in the play-off.

Matches for this weekend

Blackheath v Hartpury

Cambridge v Plymouth Albion

Darlington Mowden Park v Hull Ionians

Loughborough v Coventry

Macclesfield v Esher

Old Albanian v Blaydon
