Season 2022-23

BONUS POINT WIN SEES PARK BACK ON TRACK

Welcome to Parknews Much has happened since Parknews last appeared, not all of it entirely positive. The editor was on holiday and unable to attend the Chinnor match, therefore not qualified to comment in any detail. However, clearly to have an early 12-0 lead and then concede 48 unanswered points to a club in the bottom four at the time is not ideal. Chinnor were playing their first match under new DoR Nick Easter, and were clearly up for it, but even so... In his programme notes on Saturday Head Coach Jonathan Mills described it as a poor performance and that it had led to "some honest conversations", so best to leave it at that. Last Saturday we returned to winning ways against another bottom club playing under a new coach, Mike Umaga, under whom Hull had grabbed a losing bonus point at Rams the previous week. Park won 38-28, a score a bit closer than it should have been thanks to two late Hull tries that saw them leave with a bonus point (report further on). Conceding a total of 76 points in two matches against two bottom clubs is not good form by any standard: every club goes through a dip at some stage during the season, and it is when solid vocal support really helps. Onwards and upwards from here!

Those who turned up early enough to watch the Rangers' curtain raiser league match against Richmond Saxons on Saturday witnessed the better match of the two on the afternoon, a real cracker certainly from a spectator viewpoint. Rangers lost out 40-45 but a brave second half comeback from 33-14 down, battling into a strong wind had Richmond hanging on desperately at the end. Again, there is a report further on. The Nomads had a good win over Weybridge Vandals in controversial circumstances (see Will's report later). The club's netball teams continue to be successful. The previous week the Park Surrey team beat Weybridge Vandals 41-38 in a thriller at Roehampton Uni, while last weekend our two Kingston League sides stayed top of their respective leagues with away wins, Reds winning 33-24 at Reigate while the Blues won 90-26 at Ashford.

This weekend both Firsts and Rangers are away at Bishops Stortford on Saturday. Stortford are in their highest ever position in the leagues, sixth, after last Saturday's 26-14 away defeat at Rams before which they had won six of their last eight matches. Only the top three clubs have won at Silver Leys this season, so it will be a stern test of Park's mettle. Earlier in the season they ran us close at the Rock, losing by 29-23. Your support would be very welcome. They are a friendly, traditional Rugby club with a decent clubhouse, but with financial support from the RFU drying up for clubs at our level they have been unable to do as much as they would wish to the pitch surrounds, so stout shoes are in order. A Cheap Day return is likely to be the cheapest ticket on the train, and if you are on the tube system, Tottenham Hale may be the most convenient station to pick up a train. The ground is just about walkable from the station or town centre if you are fit and raring to go, but most would probably opt for a cab. If you are looking to make a day of it, there are a few old pubs in town but if you're not a Wetherspoons person you are unlikely to find anything open before noon.

We have one home match this Saturday. Nomads play Guildford 2 in the Surrey Championship, kicking off at 3:00PM at the Rock. Both the B XV and the Fours are away, to HAC 2 and Hammersmith & Fulham 2 respectively, in Middlesex Merit Premier. Our Surrey League netball side have a Premier A match away to Oxshott.

Park 38
Hull 28
National 1

Park overcame a much improved Hull side to take a deserved 5-point home win despite a brave attempt at a comeback from the visitors.

Both sides swapped penalties in the early stages and both had early opportunities with Park looking the more dangerous. It was 15 minutes before their early superiority bore fruit. A good move up the left paved the way for prop Austin Hay to go over, Luc Smith narrowly missing a difficult conversion.

Park were back on the attack straight away, winning a penalty that was sent deep into Hull territory for an attacking lineout from which hooker Charlie Piper's fine run sent in flanker Arthur Ellis. Smith got the conversion for 12-0.

Following a brief period of midfield deadlock, Park were in again on 26 minutes. Gaining a penalty at a scrum they set up a long-distance maul that had the visiting defence in full retreat for Hay to gain his second try, Smith again converting for 19-0.

Park might easily have extended their lead but for conceding penalties for technical offences to concede possession. In the event it was Hull, hitherto bottled-up by some fine tackling, with a fine try on the half hour by winger Jack Edwards darting down the wing. Full back Reece Dean hit a good conversion to bring up the half-time score of 19-7.

Park, now with the strong wind at their backs, made a positive start to the second period, launching a big attack from kick-off. A lineout saw the ball released to Ellis who plunged over for his second try, bringing up the bonus point on 45 minutes and taking the score to 26-7 with Smith's conversion.

Park looked to be out of sight when they mauled over but the effort was disallowed for a knock-on. They were very nearly in again but the move was halted for a forward pass. Park looked to have put the game to bed on 62 minutes when Hull were pinged for a high tackle. The kick was pinged to the 22 and the maul saw replacement hooker Jared Saunders touch down for 31-7.

Hull were still in there fighting and a fine move was finished by full-back Dean, who converted himself for 31-14 on 69 minutes.

It took Park less than 5 minutes to restore their lead when, following a scrum, Prop Sam Garvey finished off a move with replacement fly-half Craig Holland converting for 38-14.

If the game seemed over, Hull had other ideas, replying almost immediately with a try from Alex Todd, converted by Dean for 38-21 on 75 minutes.

Hull threw everything they had at Park and got the bonus point their efforts demanded with the last play of the match through winger Keane Naylor, converted by Dean for 38-28.

It seems very unlikely that Hull can avoid relegation after their poor start to the season. But after running Rams close the previous week, this performance suggests that if they do go down it could be only a temporary state of affairs.

Park: Garvey, Piper, Hay; Martin, Gillanders (C); Ledger, Ellis, Spencer; Baldwin, Smith; Marfo, Gordon, Glover, Addams; Luca Smith.

Replacements: Saunders, Buckingham, Bolwell, Lewis, Holland.

Park Rangers 40 Richmond Saxons 45 Halbro Raging Bull Div 1

Park very nearly pulled off an amazing comeback against the second string of the Championship side in a really entertaining encounter. Playing with a strong wind at their backs, Park received kick-off and hit a glorious 50-22 to claim a throw deep into Richmond territory. This led to a strong attack but the defence managed to strangle it and clear.

A good move saw full-back Henry Robinson combine with winger Ben Howard to take Park back to the visitors' 22. Another good move was stymied by a dropped pass and it was against the run of play when Richmond took the lead on 14 minutes with a driving maul giving them a 5-0 lead.

Such was the strength of the wind that Park's kick-off passed over the dead-ball line, allowing Richmond possession on halfway. They set up a series of pick and drives, eventually getting over on 18 minutes, the conversion extending their lead to 12-0.

Park got back into the game with a really good attack that saw young scrum half Jack Webster – who has played every level for Park minis and juniors – come onto the ball and race away to score. Converting his own effort, he showed composure enough when the ball blew off the tee to pick it up and hit a smart drop kick between the posts.

Some smart defensive work from Robinson brought a last ditch tackle in the corner, but it was only a temporary stay of execution as Richmond went over out wide and a great conversion made it 19-7.

Speed of thinking and sheer pace brought another good try to the visitors, converted for 26-7 on 35 minutes.

It got worse when straight from receiving kick-off Richmond set up a blinding move down the left to score and convert for 33-7.

Park were still battling and managed a score just before half-time when a rolling maul saw Matty Edwards get over, Webster converting for 33-14 at the interval.

The second period started with a brilliant move by Park, but it was stopped by Richmond who broke away to extend their lead to 38-14.

Now playing into the strong wind it looked a case of damage limitation for Park, but they showed great character to come back and give the opposition the fright of their lives.

A good attack saw a series of passes end with centre Patrick Dent cross the line out wide and get round behind the posts to give Webster an easy conversion for 38-21.

It was a further blow to the home side when Saxons mauled over and converted for 45-21.

Undaunted Park put together as good attack and a series of pick and drives on the line brought a penalty, quickly taken for winger Howard to reduce the arrears to 45-26.

Encouraged, Park put together a series of good runs and flanker Diego Costa scored a fine try, Webster again converting for 45-33.

Park set up another attack, a strong maul being held up, but flanker Brendon le Gauledec broke away to score. Unfortunately a Richmond defender slid in after he had touched down, his boot making contact with the scorer's head. The referee clearly accepted that it was accidental or the card shown would have been a darker shade than yellow. After the scorer was helped off Webster converted for 45-40.

With next to no time remaining Park threw everything at Richmond and were twice thwarted by cynical play, the second incident earning a further yellow card. But time ran out before Park could exploit their numerical advantage. A great game of rugby regardless of the result.

Most supporters will already have seen Rhys Stratton's report on the Chinnor match on the club's social media platforms and on the website, but it is reproduced below for sake of completeness.

Chinnor 48

Park 12

Esher

National 1

By RHYS STRATTON

Park opened 2023 with a disappointing loss away at Chinnor on Friday night.

The match started brightly for Park as wing Charlie Walker took only 5 minutes to open the scoring following a sloppy Chinnor clearing kick that went out on the full, giving Park a lineout just outside the hosts' 22. Park used this platform to run an effective set piece move that held Chinnor's defence in the middle of the park and created a 2-on-1 on the right wing that Henry Robinson and Walker duly executed.

Park doubled their lead before the 10-minute mark when Benji Marfo scooped up a loose ball which had come from a Park crossfield kick that, whilst not initially going to hand, had created no small amount of chaos for the Chinnor defence. Marfo still had some work to do once the ball was in his hands, but a deft step and some blistering pace was enough to see him home past the fullback and trailing winger.

Unfortunately, this was Park's last scoring contribution of the night as momentum swung in the hosts' favour and Park were never quite able to regain it. Chinnor responded to Park's early onslaught with two tries for Max Clementson from the back of driving mauls to level the scores, before a turnover at the lineout allowed Chinnor to spread it wide and take the lead into halftime.

In the second half it was the hosts who started better, now playing with the wind behind them, and they grabbed an early try as a loose ball that had squirted from the side of a midfield ruck was gathered in and carried over. Nick Smith slotted a penalty kick to extend the Chinnor's lead before the home side twice more crossed over from the back of driving mauls.

A late score from winger Kieran Goss after a break from nothing down the right wing served to rub salt in the wounds and cap off a frustrating evening for Park.

Club sides

Will Thorogood reports: Last weekend was disappointing and frustrating, but with a degree of satisfaction for the Clubside. Disappointing and frustrating for both the B's and 4's, as they could not raise full sides for their respective MMT Premier away games, and had to concede their games against Belsize Park and Old Streetonians. Let's hope that players, this week, will come out of the Christmas and New Year celebration woodwork, and get back on the field of play!?

A frustrating, yet satisfying, Saturday for the Nomads, however. They were meant to have had a scheduled home game against Weybridge Vandals in their Surrey Championship fixture, but this was frustrated and thwarted by the Vandals' insistence that the game had to be played at theirs. It's a long story, but Vandals seem to spend their spare time reading up the small print of the competition rules and regulations because we had had to cancel them back in October. Fair enough, there have to be rules and regs, but the Nomads had already conceded the potential points for that game. Penalty enough, maybe, but the Nomads, reasonable and sporting types, they are, accepted Surrey's edict that the game would have to be played down at Walton on Thames, and lose any home advantage, not to mention any significant home bar takings that would have been taken! (they do like several post match beers).

Anyway, more salt was rubbed into the Nomads' wounds by Vandals who insisted we play with only 14 on the field (rules and regs small print again) because of our perennial front row shortage problem, and it is a problem, as scrums had to be played uncontested. Rules are rules, but I thought the rugby world was trying to get more people playing, not denying or limiting playing numbers! What happened to the "playing ethos spirit" of the amateur game? (There is also the possibility of the Nomads being additionally sanctioned and docked a league point because of the uncontested scrums). If there aren't enough props and hookers about what can be done? I don't know. Too much red tape, but play with 14 men they did, and to cut this long story short, the Nomads XIV ensured that a satisfying justice prevailed, despite all these obstacles and limitations, and they put in that extra shift to prevail with a 19-10 victory against a Vandals 2nd XV.

Ted Hewins (Nomads'skipper) reports:

10 – 19 to the Nomads. 3 tries by Richard Spice, Gregor Haran & Michael Howden.

We went up first with a great line out by the forwards and then a hard line by Spice, who took the ball off 9, to power over. Vandals then pinned us in our 22 for most of the rest of the first half and scored two tries in quick succession. Last play of the half we took a quick tap penalty and Gregor finished off some good hands in the corner. The second half we played the majority in their half and we scored our third try following a big kick chase and turnover by the forwards.

Rangers were in an 85 point thriller against Richmond Saxons. 33-14 down at half time, but it could have been Rangers' victory if we had had but a few more minutes on the clock. Not to be though.

Rangers 40 Saxons 45.

1's back to winning ways against Hull-38-28, with a workmanlike performance, but Hull had us worried in the second half, and didn't look like a side propping up the league.

As it turned out last Saturday week we only had one Clubside MMT Cup game at the weekend. Unfortunately, the B's were unable to field a full side in their MMT Cup game against London Cornish 2's last Saturday, and had to concede the game and result.

However, the 4's, after a bit of a struggle, were able to field a team in their Cup encounter down at the Old Deer Park against London Welsh Druids. Thanks to all who partook. On a very wet and windy afternoon, where it was almost black and white, with no colour apart from a spectacular rainbow during the game, it reminded me of the old intro music to "Rugby Special". No Cliff Morgan, Starmer-Smith, John Dawes or Gerald Davies present, but maybe in spirit! The Kew Garden Pagoda still towers over the Old Deer Park, however. An impressive and iconic sight under which many a Rosslyn Park Great would have plied their rugby trade before we moved to the Rock in the 1950's. (Prince Obolensky played his first game for Park here in the 1930's, I believe).

The scene is set, and an exciting cup tie ensued. All the players seemed a bit rusty after the Christmas break, and the muddy conditions didn't help, but the cobwebs were coughed away. The usual early period sparring and territorial incursions were played out. After about 15 minutes the Druids conceded a penalty in front of the posts, but a gust of wind must have caught the ball at the wrong moment and it failed to reach its target. 0-0 still. However, this miss inspired the 4's into more fluency and potency, and a well worked team move, forwards and backs together, lead to Freddie Balsdon sprinting over on the right. Duly converted, this time, by Balsdon. 0-7. Druids quickly responded with a penalty and a well worked try on the left wing which was converted. So, at half time Druids 8 The 4's 7.

It was always going to be close, and the second half saw more of the same, equal possession and territory. Captain and inspirational leader, Tom Wrigglesworth, lead from the front and crashed over from short range near the posts, after some considerable Park pressure and good rugby. This was slotted over by Balsdon. 8-14. A tenacious Druids side, however, upped a gear in reply, and through a process of simple "quick ball", straight running and good handling, created an overlap on the right, to which the Park defense could not find an answer. A fine conversion by Welsh gave them the lead again. 15-14. Nip and tuck, ebb and flow, with the clock ticking, the intensity of the game increased. The 4's desperately attacking, whilst Druids desperately defending. Literally with the last 4's offensive incursion, a decisive Welsh covering tackle bundled our winger into touch just a yard short from the line. Then, not wanted to be heard by the 4's, the ref's final whistle...no side...time had run out. A thriller, despite the conditions. Full Time: Druids 15 IV's 14. This was real cup football! Well played, all.

Netball

A special mention to Blues who scored 90, this is a club record and just waiting to find out if it is a league record!! Both Kingston League teams still remaining unbeaten this season.

Reigate 24 Park Reds 33

Kingston Div 5

Starting 7: GK- Saskia Leppard GD- Simone Quick WD- Jude Lewis C- Hannah Gilbert WA- Hayley Birk GA- Tash Eeles GS- Charli Hicks

Subs: Charlotte Stafford, Milly Marsh, Emily Sarsfield-Power
The Kingston Reds winning streak continues with a hard fought game against Reigate, with wind and rain to match the January mood... It took a few minutes for the team to settle into the conditions, allowing Reigate to pull ahead a few goals. However it didn't take long for us to focus and work together to finish the first quarter with a 4 goal lead.

The second quarter had a few ups and downs and Reigate's strong shooting brought them close behind at 14-13. At half time we made some changes throughout the court, bringing fresh legs on in attack and defence which was a great way to bring some focus and control back to the game.

In the second half the Reds retained a lead and in the last quarter were able to pull ahead to win 33-24. There were real moments of control and excellent play throughout the court, including a strong defence and feeds into the D to Charli playing against a very strong GK.

Our captain, Jude, won a very well deserved home and away POM - controlling the game in centre court and making multiple tips and interceptions throughout the game. The Reds are taking away areas to work on and improve moving into the second half of the season as well as a reminder of what we are capable of as a team when we play our own game and use our strengths.

Ashford 26 Park Blues 90 Kingston Div 9

Starting 7: GK- Gabs Cross GD- Lydia Renouf WD- Charlotte McDonough C- Tash Levy WA- Maddie Dean GA- Pip Medley GS- Bella Ellis

Subs: Bronte Jackson, Alex Addison

Here begins the second half of the season. The team are wanting to remain unbeaten and keep their winning streak. They are hungry for the win today...

Blues kicked off their first match of 2023 with dedication and strength. After the Christmas break Blues focused on direct balls, communication and commitment. Blues got off to a flying start with amazing shooting and communication from Pip (GA) and Bels (GS) alongside great pressure from the defensive end on the Ashford attacking players. Score 18-8 to Blues.

Q2. Blues came into this quarter determined to widen the goal difference even more. During the final moments of this quarter the heavens truly opened and Blues had to switch their focus to short accurate passes, whilst maintaining a safe level of play. We saw some great pressure and communication from Lydia (GD) and Brontë (GK) in the circle and we saw Tash (C) do some incredible feeds into the circle to get it into the hands of our shooters. Highlight of this quarter was the incredible movement from Pip (GA) around the circle opening the play up and creating opportunities. Blues end the quarter with a fantastic lead of 44-16.

Q3: Quarter 3 saw Blues take complete control of the game on a damp, cold and windy court. The focus for this quarter was to make fast, strong and accurate passes into the shooting circle by Mads (WA) and Tash (C), which helped create an even greater goal difference. There was a change up of players in the shooting positions from Ashford, the defence had to change their play and tactics, but they still got some great tips and kept up the pressure. Blues lead 66-18.

Q4: Final quarter of the first game of 2023, what a way to start the new year. Each and every Blues player has come into this quarter with determination. Gabs (GK) making some fabulous intercepts in the shooting circle, whilst Charlotte (WD) had some great intercepts on the Ashford centre passes. Blues really worked as a team in this quarter and there was amazing play from everyone, particularly Lydia (GD), with some fabulous intercepts in the centre and goal third.

The final whistle goes with Blues securing a record win for Rosslyn Park NC of 90- 26, yes you read that correctly, 90! Every single Blues team member played with such determination and strength. Special mention to the Home POM Pip and Away POM Lydia.

Absolutely incredible play Blues, let's keep up the winning streak!

The previous week the Surrey League team had a great win over Weybridge Vandals.

NC Rosslyn Park (Surrey) 41 Weybridge Vandals 38

Surrey Premier A

Starting line up: GK- Hannah Wallis (VC) GD- Charlotte Miller, WD- Claire Shapland, C- Mollie Armes, WA- Hannah McNally, GA- Fran Bennett, GS- Tara Ellis

Subs: Charlotte Stafford, Georgie Howes, Beth Hunt

It was a wet start to the year on Saturday when Surrey took on Vandals for the second time this season. Having previously beaten Vandals, Park knew it was going to be a tough game but one that could be won. Park got off to a strong start and quickly broke down Vandals' attack. Great defensive zoning allowed turnovers to be made in the D and consistent shooting allowed Park to take the lead in the first quarter 11-5. Lots of communication from Claire in defence rattled the Vandals. Controlled passing and discipline helped Park convert every centre pass.

In the second quarter, Beth moved into GA. Miller moved to GK and Kate came on the GD. Vandals came out hard in the second quarter, their physicality helped them gain turnovers which were converted into goals. With Park's lead decreasing, they needed to respond. Miller worked tirelessly in defence to chase down loose balls which help Park keep their lead. Half time score was 19-17.

At half time, Claire moved into C and Charlotte Stafford came on at WD (making her Surrey debut). Good man on defensive pressure from Charlotte and great interceptions from Kate allowed Park to stretch out their lead. Despite the tough conditions, Tara and Beth managed to convert turnovers into goals. Park were ahead 29-24.

Vandals came out strong in the final quarter and were desperate to unsettle the rhythm but Park maintained control. Park continued to transition the ball smoothly up the court. With fantastic ball placement from McNally and everyone giving 100% until the final whistle, Park won the match 41-38.

A great start to 2023 and a huge thank you to our supporters for their wise words and encouragement. Shout out to Miller for Away POM on her return to action! Home player of the match went to Hannah McNally.

Funeral of David Rollitt

Unfortunately this is very late notice, but hopefully most people will already know from other sources, but David Rollitt's funeral will be this Wednesday, 18th January, at 2pm at Mortlake Crematorium. Afterwards, we will be celebrating his life at a wake to be held at Richmond Athletic Ground at around 3.30pm.

Pippa said, "This venue has been carefully selected because it was here that we, as a family, were taken under the wing of the West London rugby family back in 1977, dad finished his playing career in 1979 with them as well as going on to coach them and be involved with the club as Eben played his mini rugby there and yes I then started my pitchside physio there in 1996-99 and then I moved to Rosslyn Park following my lovely Matt who had also moved from Richmond to play the Park.

"It would be lovely to see any of the Park old boys (or young) come along but it would also be useful to get a rough estimate as to how many might be there so we can try to confirm numbers and hopefully get some reserved seating sorted. Bristol / Richmond / Park / Loughborough and Medics as well as Old Paulines are going to fill this venue along with our relatives and great non rugby friends - joining us to remember this gorgeous Old Grey Fox .. dad!"
